

Edinboro has a long-standing reputation as a close-knit community, where hard-working neighbors care for one another. In 1936, the community took a significant step in ensuring the safety and well-being of its residents by forming its own fire department. Today, the Edinboro Volunteer Fire Department stands as a symbol of the town's strength and pride, staffed with dedicated volunteers who are always ready to set aside their own plans to protect their community. They are an integral part of the fabric of Edinboro, and their selfless service is greatly appreciated by all.

The dedication and sacrifices made by volunteer firefighters and EMS providers cannot be overstated. They put their lives on the line to protect and save others, often at the expense of their personal lives. Missed family events and milestones are a common occurrence for these volunteers, as they must be ready to respond to emergencies at a moment's notice. This constant juggling act between their commitment to serve and their personal responsibilities can take a toll. Just being ready to respond is difficult, add to that fundraising and it makes volunteering to serve even more daunting.

A group of forward-thinking members of the Edinboro Volunteer Fire Department began to explore ways to provide a sustainable revenue source for the fire department. In 2015 and 2016, with the support of Washington Township's then manager, Dave Anthony, and other township leaders and staff building construction began. With the commitment of a dedicated community, Engine House 39 opened its doors in April of 2018. We have faced challenges, including a global pandemic, and we remain committed to being the region's premiere social club, offering a unique atmosphere, and value to our members.

We recognize that a great deal of our success is due to our amazing staff, who work hard to provide you with exceptional experience. Above all, it is only through the continuing support of a wonderful community of citizens who support their emergency service providers that we achieve our mission of protecting and serving the Edinboro community and our neighbors.
